FOURTEEN REPORT TO TRY FOR TEAM

Virginia's Baseball Candidates Have Chance to Practice on Lambeth Field.

Charlottesville, Va., January 2t.-Virginia battery candidates put in four days of outdoor practice on Lambeth Field this week, the diamond being in unusually good condition for midwinter. In fact, the ground has been frozen but once since Christmas. Fourteen players reported for practice one afternoon, including the following: Fitchers Neff. Gammon, Calloway and Bell, and Catchers Green, Jenkins, Brown and Fry. Bell is said to be a right-hander of promise. Fry, the new candidate for backstop, made quite a reputation for himself at Hampden-Sidney, Beckwith, who held down second base with such signal success last spring, reached college Thursday night, but had to leave the next day for trip North before matriculating. His return will give Virginia a very fast infield, the other players being Neff, shortstop, and Stickley, third base. Smith, who played with Stickley at Woodstock, last summer, is a promising applicant for first base to succeed Finlay, who did not return to college.

BALL PLAYERS TO HAVE BIG SEASON

Amateur Commission Will Meet Thursday Night to Complete All Details.

Prospects are bright for the biggest season in the history of organized amateur baseball in Richmond. When President Hill calls the members of the commission together in the annual meeting which will be held in the National State and City Bank Thursday night at $330 o'clock, applications from numbers of managers who have teams ready to enter the several leagues will be received. Unfortunately there are few vacancies and therefore new leagues will have to be formed.

fore new leagues will have to be formed.

There is a vast amount of business to transact at the meeting Thursday night in addition to the election of officers, and for this reason President Hill is anxious that all the members attend promptly. Several of the rules of the commission will be discussed, and it is highly probable that some changes will be adopted, especially in regard to the reserve clause in the contracts. It is also anticipated that closed leagues will be formed so as to avoid certain complications which arose last season.

Proffers of ball parks to take care of the amateurs have been received and this difficulty, which the commissioners had to overcome last year, will largely take care of itself. Plans for the annual parade of the amateurs on opening day will also be made. At present there are nearly 1,000 amateur ball players registered with the secretary of the commission, and this number who will send in their names through their managers at the coming ineeting.

This is the interpretation Mayor John Purroy Mitchel placed to-day on Colonel Goethals's present attitude toward the police commissionership of this city, which has been tendered him. "If language means anything," said the Mayor, "Colonel Goethals will become police commissioner of New York City, provided two conditions which he City, provided two conditions which he imposes are fulfilled. I expect these conditions to be realized."

The Mayor said he expected to get in touch with President Wilson soon.

He had no official knowledge, he said, of any intention on the part of the President to offer Colonel Goothals the governorship of the Canni Zone, but he did expect that the President would grant the colonel's proposed request for retirement from the army.

The two conditions imposed by Colonel Goethals are his retirement from the army and the energies.
